Indian agents were directly responsible for the affairs of one or more tribe. Special Indian agents carried out specific assignments for the Bureau. Superintendents had general responsibility for Indian affairs in an assigned geographic area, usually a territory, but often larger. These records are not digitized.

Annual Reports of the Commissioner of Indian Affairs

During the 19th and early 20th centuries, the annual reports of the Commissioner of Indian Affairs included the annual reports of BIA agencies and superintendencies. Although there is rarely biographical information about the agent or superintendent, the reports give an overview of his activities for that year.

The annual reports are reproduced in the Congressional Serial Set. Researchers can identify the citations for these reports in the Congressional Information Service's Index to the Congressional Serial Set. Robert M. Kvasnicka and Herman J. Viola's The Commissioners of Indian Affairs, 1824–1977 (Lincoln: University of Nebraska Press, 1979), also contains the Serial Set citations for the Commissioner's annual reports.
